Massage of The Inspector General of Police

Resembling an unstoppable torrent which flows overcoming many obstacles and challenges Sri Lanka Police has marched forth while facing many obstacles as a public service which has gained maturity over 150 years. This moment which marks one and a half centuries of Sri Lanka Police is not just a milestone but it has been perceived as an initial step of a long journey which should be taken with vigilance.

On such a solemn occasion, it is with great pleasure that I give this message through the performance report of the Sri Lanka Police.

Sri Lanka Police is one of the topmost institutions which is dedicated towards rendering public service while successfully confronting many daunting challenges. It is an irrefutable fact that the journey of 150 years of the Sri Lanka Police has been full of such innumerable challenges. You all will vouch for the fact that Sri Lanka Police has never shirked their responsibilities towards public service for even a single moment despite many obstacles and challenges they face. A moment of negligence on the part of Sri Lanka Police could lead to a major catastrophe in the civil society. Each police officer shoulders an exclusive responsibility towards society. When looking at the operations carried out by the police during 2016, the plight of the criminals before the vigilant eyes of the police becomes quite evident.

The number of grave crimes reported in 2016 has considerably gone down compared to the number of crimes reported in 2015. That is one of the main aspects that shows the dedication of Sri Lanka Police towards minimizing crimes. The percentage of the progress of solving crimes in 2015 which was 59% has been increased up to 73% in 2016 and this clearly shows the skill and the efficiency of the police in solving crimes.

During 2016, we have been able to achieve many victories in the battle Sri Lanka Police is waging against the drug abuse which has become a festering canker to the whole society. Moreover, this report will elucidate many details with regard to some of the massive scale drug seizures, which had been a possibility because of the sharp-eyed police officers as well as the public. This can definitely be pointed out as a significant achievement not only for us but also for the whole community and the next generation.

I take pleasure in stating that the program, 'Tell IGP' which is being carried out without any interruption, for the people to make complaints directly to the Inspector General of Police, has resolved 99% out of the complaints received during 2016.

Furthermore, measures are being taken expeditiously to increase the number of police stations, which had been 439, up to 600. Under this initiative we were able to increase the total number of police stations up to 472 by 31.12.2016, adding 33 new police stations during this time. I wish to state that this will prove to be of great convenience for the people of the country and that it is a very important step taken by the police as an institution which is held accountable for serving the public.

We have fully comprehended the fact that Police is an institution which consists of our own fellow citizens. I should mention that the public relationship has always been the strength we had during our journey over a period of a century and a half. I consider this a great opportunity to express our determination to keep preserving law and order within the country which is deemed our bounden duty while further receiving that public support. To achieve this end, I fervently hope that the whole community would extend their generous support towards Sri Lanka Police.

Pujith Jayasundara, Inspector General of Police

03. Crime Prevention & Investigation

3.1 Grave Crimes

Secured society without fear of crime is an expectation of all the citizen. Sri Lanka Police gets the support from all the institutions with the intention of a society with minimal crimes. As a result of that, when comparing statistics, it has been clearly shown that grave crime incidents have been reduced gradually during the previous three years.

As per the table No. 05, the police was able to reduce number of grave crimes by 3251 in the year 2016 compare to the previous year, 2015. Crime solving percentage has also been increased due to the usage of modern crime prevention methods. This had been 59% in the year 2015 and it has been increased to 73% in the year 2016.

3.2 Minor offences against people and property

These offences can be identified as obstacles for the wellbeing of the society though they are not considered as grave and cruel crimes. There are two types of offences such as offences against people and property. According to the above table, the numbers of reported minor offences against people and property have been increased during the past few years. We have been able to maintain the percentage of solving minor offences against property at 48% this year too.

In addition according to the table number 05, the percentage of solving minor crimes against personals has been decreased by 67% in 2016 compare to the previous year.

04. Crimes against Women and Children

All the advanced societies pay a special attention in terms of protecting women and children. Sri Lanka police also pay special attention in this regard taking measures to prevent crimes against women and children by establishing women and child units at every police station. Table 06 shows these details in this regard.

4.1 crimes against children

According to the table No.06, crime against children has decreased from 5911 in the year 2015 to 5694 in the year 2016. Though the investigation progress is shown less compare to the previous year, it remains at 58% level.

4.2 crimes against women

According to the table No.06, though crimes against women have increased, solving percentage remains at 58% level.

05. Investigation on Miscellaneous Complaints

Majority of the complaints reported to police fall under this category. A large number of miscellaneous complains are reported annually and they are solved after getting effective solutions through the police. The number of complaints that had been made shows that the public relies on police when it comes to settling disputes rather than getting problems solved in a disorganized way. Although they may be trivial incidents, the ability to solve them within the police station itself while preventing them from becoming grave crimes in future, can be pointed out as a positive aspect.

As given through the following table No. 07, the number of miscellaneous complaints reported remains high similar to the number of complaints reported during the previous years. The solving percentage had also been maintained from 99% to 100%.

06. Prevention of illicit Liquor and Narcotic

Offences related to illicit liquor and narcotic are the main obstacles that have a detrimental effect on peace and development in a society. These offences directly disrupt public order and pave the way for crimes.

Sri Lanka Police has deployed an immense number of human and material resources to eradicate offences related to illicit liquor and narcotic. Generally, such raids were conducted by Police Narcotic Division, Central Anti-Vice Unit of Walana and Police Special Task Force. The following tables show large scale raids conducted in 2016.

6.1 Offences related to illicit liquor

According to the following table No. 8, 120105 offences had been reported in 2016 and solving percentage is 92%. Compared to the previous year, police had uncovered a large number of offences related to liquor. Such apprehensions can be viewed as direct results of successful raids conducted based on accurate pieces of information.

6.2 Offences related to intoxicants

Year 2016 can be recognized as a year in which dangerous intoxicant drugs had been apprehended in large scale. As mentioned in the table No. 9, the number of reported offences related to this subject remains in similar level as it had been reported last year. Police was able to maintain the solving percentage similar to that of the previous years, which is 98%.

Table Number 0	9

Source: Statistics Division

As per the table No. 10, compared to 2015, the quantity of narcotics that had been apprehended was three times greater than the quantity of last year. When considering the detrimental social impact that might have been created if this amount of drugs had been released to the society, it is evident that Sri Lanka Police had prevented a dangerous social issue through their vigilance and successful operations. The continuous support of Special Task Force has become one of main factors to make these raids successful.

6.3 Awareness programmes on Narcotics

A great service can be provided by raising awareness liberating the community as well as the future generation from narcotics. To fulfill this objective, various awareness programmes are continuously conducted by Police Narcotic Division. Awareness programmes conducted in 2016 are mentioned in the table No. 12.

Table	Number 12 Awareness program	nmes on	Narcotic

07. Corruption and Statutory Offences

When conducting a study over the last few years, corruption and statutory offences can be identified as an area that has shown a gradual decline. Sri Lanka Police had greatly contributed towards minimizing these offenses that can directly have a debilitating effect on human and social wellbeing. As indicated in the following table, in 2016, raids had been conducted by Sri Lanka Police with the contribution of Police Special Task Force to minimize corruption and statutory offences.

08. Traffic Management and Road Safety

It is quite evident that Sri Lanka Police makes an enormous contribution towards ensuring maximum safety for road users by creating safe road systems with a minimal number of road accidents. Even though the police officers are engaged in ensuring road safety enduring various environmental difficulties, road accidents and loss of lives that are on the increase day by day has become a main obstacle for economic and social advancement. Table no 15 widely elaborate on the accidents that had occurred during the past three years

Table Number 15Table on Road Accidents 2014 - 2016
Year	Fatal Accidents	Major Accidents	Minor Injuries	Accidents causing Damages	Total Accidents	Number of Vehicles	Number of accidents for 1000 vehicles

According to the table number 15, it can be clearly identified that the increase of road accidents during last three years. As stated in the table, the increase of road accidents in each category has to be taken into consideration. Though the ratio of number of accidents for thousand (1000) vehicles remains as it had been, the total number of accidents has increased by 2,168 whereas fatal accidents has also increased by 234.

The main reasons for the accidents which are increasing day by day are driving under the influence of liquor, high speed, violation of road rules and carelessness of pedestrians. As per the above table, the attention should also be paid to the rapid increase of vehicles.

09. Other Public Services

In addition to the main responsibility, Sri Lanka Police implements various services for the wellbeing of the fellow human beings as well as the society. These tasks help to create a positive attitude towards the police and they also help strengthen the relationship between police and the public.

9.1 Community Policing Committee

Through closely dealing with the public and maintain mutual understanding, it has become easy to obtain the assistance from the public to perform police tasks. Sri Lanka Police has embarked on this initiative through the Community Policing Concept. Accordingly, the former 'Rural Civil Security Committee' has been restructured as 'Community Policing Committee' and the name 'Counseling Committee' has been changed as 'Regional Police Advisory Council'. The structure of these committees in the year of 2016 is mentioned below.

9.2 Environmental Protection

Unlike in the past, concerns on environmental protection have gone up in the face of challenges posed from the environment towards the human society. While paying attention to that, Sri Lanka Police not only performs the duty of protecting the environment which has been entrusted to them but also the social responsibilities while having a clear understanding about them. In 2016, police environmental protection process has been conducted as follows.

- Patrolling boat visits have been held once a week with the help of the Sri Lanka Navy to prevent pollution in 13 canals in Colombo city.
- Motor bicycle tours had had been conducted twice a day to supervise the beautification of the city.
- 16 week programme on Mosquito Prevention had been conducted from 07.01.2016 to 28.10.2016 with the participation of Presidential Task Force and Ministry of Health and awareness programmes had been held, red notices had issued and legal action has been taken.

9.3 Social Service

Being a public service institution which is comprised of the public, Sri Lanka Police has fully understood its responsibility on social wellbeing. Expanding the horizons of police service which covers a wide range of fields, Sri Lanka Police had implemented special programmes through social welfare services. Some of those services offered in 2016 are mentioned below.

13. Performance of the year 2016 in brief

2016 can be pointed out as a very important year for Sri Lanka Police. Marking 150 years in the journey of its service is one of such momentous occasions. Even when considering the operations which had been carried out to prevent narcotics and crimes, this year is of great importance to Sri Lanka Police. As a whole, a summation of the performance of Sri Lanka Police in 2016 can be presented as follows.

- The number of grave criminal incidents taken place during the previous year, which was 40,188 has gone down to 36,937 and a gradual downward trend could be observed in the grave criminal incidents during the course of the past few years.
- The percentage of solving grave crimes in 2015 was 59% and in 2016 it had been increased to 73%.
- In 2015, the number of complaints on petty disputes (miscellaneous complaints), which is a source that creates greater social problems, has been reported as 1014812 and out of those 1014291 have been solved. Out of the 1039350 complaints that had been reported in 2016 1028942 have been solved. Sri Lanka Police has been able to maintain an optimal level exceeding 99% regarding the progress of investigation of these miscellaneous complaints both in 2015 and 2016.
- The quantity of narcotics seized after initiating action against narcotic rackets, which is considered as the root of both petty and grave crimes in 2015, is around 14,000 kilos and it consists of 1323 kilos of cannabis, 44 kilos of heroin and 81 kilos of cocaine. In 2016, around 39,000 kilos of narcotics had been seized and it consisted of 36817 kilos of cannabis, 205 kilos of heroin and 2302 kilos of cocaine.
- When considering the offences reported regarding liquor and intoxicants and their progress in solving, out of the 88,377 offences reported regarding intoxicants in 2016, 86,330 have been solved and that percentage is 98%. Out of the 120105 offences reported regarding liquor, 111028 have been solved and that percentage is 92%.
- When considering crimes against children, a decrease in such incidents can be observed compared to that of 2015. The number of crimes which was 5,911 in 2015 has decreased to 5,709 in 2016. However, the percentage of solving in 2015 was 86% and it has decreased to 57% in 2016.
- Number of crimes against women reported in 2015 was 8288 and the number of crimes solved was 4579. As a percentage it can be presented as 55%. Number of crimes reported in 2016 was 9042 and out of those 4976 have been solved. As a percentage it can be given as 55%.
- When taking corruptions and statutory offences into consideration, a gradual decrease in these offences can be observed within the last 3 years. This downward trend can be seen as 56798 in 2014, 48086 in 2015 and 47426 in 2016. Out of the 47426 offences reported in 2016, 45394 have been solved and as a percentage it marks a high level which is 96%.
- Services which solves crimes efficiently, such as IG Public Assistance Day, 'Tell IGP' Service, Public Help Desk and 119 Emergency Call Service had received 1007240 complaints in 2016 and a great success of 99% has been achieved by solving 1001835 out of those.
- In 2016, a remarkable success has been achieved in the course of action for increasing the number of police stations up to 600 with the objective of providing an efficient service for the general public. Under the said project the number of police stations which was 439 has been increased by 33 to reach 472 police stations.
